Many Glacier Lodging & Learning

Immerse yourself in the rugged beauty of Glacier National Park's Many Glacier region with this four-day educational adventure based at the historic Many Glacier Hotel. Designed for a small group of up to 14 participants, this program combines guided hikes through some of Glacier's most iconic landscapes with expert-led outdoor education.

With hikes ranging from moderate to strenuous, this program offers an enriching and active experience suitable for moderately fit participants.

Evenings allow time to unwind at the historic Many Glacier Hotel, reflecting on the day's discoveries in comfort and tranquility.

Each day features hikes to Iceberg Lake, Redrock Falls, and Grinnell Glacier, showcasing dramatic alpine scenery, wildflower meadows, cascading waterfalls, and glacially carved valleys. Along the way, you'll gain insights into the region's unique geology, wildlife, and the impacts of a changing climate.

Whether you're new to Glacier or a returning visitor, this program offers a unique way to connect with the park's natural wonders while deepening your understanding of its incredible ecosystems.

Why Choose a Lodging & Learning Package?

These newly developed Lodging & Learning packages are developed through a partnership with Glacier National Park Lodges and the Glacier Institute. These packages combine the best lodging locations with an exceptional immersive field education experience.

The Glacier Institute is the official education partner of Glacier National Park. The Glacier Institute's mission is to strengthen connections to the natural world through outdoor education.

Frequently Asked Questions

HOW FIT DO I NEED TO BE?

- Participants should be prepared to hike up to 8 miles in a day with elevation gains of up to 825 feet. Depending on the group's pace and preferences, hikes may be shortened to prioritize educational quality.
- The Glacier Institute follows a strict hike as a group policy, ensuring all participants stay together for a safe, engaging, and enriching educational experience.
- Participants should be prepared for changing environmental conditions that may exasperate existing health conditions. Please make considerations for elevation, seasonal allergies, and air quality due to fires and bring any necessary medications.

WHAT SHOULD I PACK?

Much of the program time will be spent outdoors, and participants should be prepared for various mountain weather conditions and temperatures. Appropriate clothing, equipment, and footwear are essential. Summer temperatures can range from below-freezing in the mornings to 85° Fahrenheit in the afternoons. Layering garments for protection against the wind, sun, and temperature extremes should guide clothing choices.

The Outdoor Education Specialist will carry a first aid kit, bear spray, and emergency communication device.

Frequently Asked Questions

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE:

- What do the vehicles look like?
 - They are 2016 Ford Transit Vans that seat a max of 15 people.
- What are the staff's qualifications?
 - Our staff arrive each season with tremendous passion and diverse backgrounds. They immediately undergo an intensive three-week training period, during which they become Certified Interpretive Guides and Montana Master Naturalists.
- Am I guaranteed to go on the hikes listed in the itinerary?
 - We will do our best to follow the itinerary that was crafted for this trip. However, Glacier National Park occasionally closes trails for weather, trail conditions, wildlife, or fires. In the case of a closure, we will find another suitable location to explore.
